Higher limits do exist on withdrawals made while overseas and may go as high as your credit limit. These Transaction limits shall not affect your obligation to pay immediately any amount debited to your Credit Card Account in excess of your credit limit. Limits will apply regardless of whether your Card Account has a debit or credit balance.

2.9 Mail, telephone and remote transactions
When you use your Card to make purchases for goods and services by mail, telephone or remote means (such as internet and e-mail), you are giving authority to the Merchant to debit the purchase amount to your Credit Card Account. You must still pay the amount of the Transaction although you will not necessarily have signed a sales voucher. There are risks involved in providing your Card details and authorizing Transactions before you receive the goods or services. Before doing so you should consider the security and standing of the relevant Merchant. You may not, under any circumstances, attempt to make a mail, telephone or remote purchase for goods or services if your Card has been cancelled, suspended, lost or stolen, or you have requested closure of your Credit Card Account. Information on when we may act or decline to act on your facsimile, telephone, e-mail and other electronic instructions is set out in clause 10.3.

2.10 Your credit limit
Your credit limit will be set by us to what we consider is an appropriate limit and we may change it from time to time. If your Credit Card Account is not operated to our satisfaction we may decrease your credit limit. We will advise you in writing if we change your credit limit. Notwithstanding the foregoing, we may, at our discretion, allow Transactions to your Credit Card Account which exceeds your credit limit. If your credit limit is exceeded, you must pay the excess amount to us immediately.

2.12 Transaction limits at selected Merchants
We may at any time impose a permanent or temporary limit on the number, types and/or amounts of Transactions we authorize on your Credit Card Account at selected Merchants as determined by us from time to time. These limits will apply regardless of whether your Card Account has a debit or credit balance.

2.13 Cash Advances
You may get a Cash Advance in City Bank or overseas by using your American Express Card at an ATM displaying the American Express logo. Or you could present your Card to an American Express Travel Service Office (for American Express). American Express Member may set a minimum or maximum on the amount available to you. A Cash Advance incurs interest from the day it is made until it has been paid in full. Any credit balance in your Credit Card Account will be immediately applied by us to payment of the associated Cash Advance fee and the Cash Advance respectively.

2.14 Foreign Currency Transactions
You can use your Card to make purchases, obtain Cash Advances and receive funds in foreign currencies. All foreign currency purchases, Cash Advances and returned purchases will be converted to US Dollars as at the date your Transaction is processed (and not necessarily the date that you enter into your Transaction). They will be converted at a rate of exchange set by American Express Global Network Services for American Express Cards® and charges made in a foreign currency other than US dollars will be converted by American Express into US Dollars. We add a Foreign Currency Service Fee calculated as a percentage of the USD value of each foreign currency purchase, Cash Advance or returned purchase.

The converted amount of your foreign currency Transaction and the Foreign Currency Service Fee are both included in the USD amount shown on your statement for each Transaction. The rate of exchange shown on the statement is the applicable scheme rate adjusted by us to include our fee. We are not responsible for any loss or damage you may suffer if, because of occurrences beyond our control, you cannot use your Card overseas. This could include ATM or communications line failure.

For foreign charges converted by American Express, American Express applies a foreign currency factor of 2% to the converted amount. A charge that is made in a foreign currency other than US Dollars will, when the conversion is done by American Express, be converted into US Dollars before being converted into your billing currency.

The Foreign Currency Service Fee is subject to change. For details about this and other interest, fees and charges associated with use of your Card visit americaneexpress.co.bd and click through to the Rates and Fees page.

For this purpose, you authorize us to transfer

8. Payments

8.1 Minimum payment due
The “current minimum payment due” is recorded on your statement and is the minimum payment you must pay by the Last Date for Payment unless your statement records a “total minimum payment due” in which case this is the minimum payment you must pay by the Last Date for Payment. If there is a “total minimum payment due” showing on your current statement, this comprises any “current minimum payment due” plus, if applicable, an amount overdue from a previous statement and/or an amount by which you have exceeded your credit limit. We will advise you on your statement of the “current minimum payment due” and if applicable the “total minimum payment due”, however you may elect to pay more than the “total minimum payment due” if you wish. If there is an “over limit amount due now” showing on your current statement, you have exceeded your credit limit and must pay this amount immediately. If you have made any more purchases, which are not shown on your current statement, you must also pay these amounts immediately. If there is an “overdue amount due now” showing on your current statement, you may not have paid the “total minimum payment due” or the “current minimum payment due” or both as shown on the previous statement and you must pay this immediately.

Payments, other than notes and coins, will only be provisionally credited to your Credit Card Account. You may not access any such payments before they are cleared. If not cleared, they will be debited to your Credit Card Account and a fee may be charged. Accordingly, the balance of your Credit Card Account may be altered by reversal of any unpaid cheque or other non-cash payment.

8.3 When payment received
For the purposes of calculating interest, your payment will be credited to your Credit Card Account as at the date we receive it. Standard processing times mean that a payment may not appear on our records in time for it to be taken into account when deciding whether to approve a Transaction. Generally your payment must be received by us two business days prior to your statement closing date if it is to appear on your current statement.

8.4 Allocation of payments
We are not obliged to act on or verify compliance with an instruction to apply a payment for a specific purpose or subject to any condition and we will not be responsible for applying a payment contrary to any instruction. The way your payments to your Credit Card Account are applied will be determined by us at our discretion. However, generally they will be applied in the order set out below:

(a) Interest, fees (excluding a foreign currency service fee) and charges (with the interest, fees and charges incurred on the lowest interest rate Transactions repaid first);

(b) Any Transactions (excluding Cash Advances but including any applicable foreign currency service fee) with a lower interest rate than the standard annual debit interest rate (with the lowest rate Transactions repaid first if there is more than one interest rate applicable to Transactions lower than the standard annual debit interest rate);

(c) Cash Advances (including any applicable foreign currency service fee) then all other credit arising from Transactions (including any applicable foreign currency service fee) processed prior to the last statement;

(d) Cash Advances (including any applicable foreign currency service fee) then all other credit arising from Transactions (including any applicable foreign currency service fee) made since the current statement. Notwithstanding the above clauses, if you have made a payment that creates a credit balance in your Credit Card Account, that credit will be applied to any future Transactions in the order that those Transactions are processed.

(e) Then any purchases done through your card account.
(f) Finally any other transactions like Balance Transfer, EMI etc.

8.5 Direct debit facility
